THE disaster which befel the steamboat Spark, while on her passage from this port to Haiphong, directs attention afresh to the torious, and after that he visited Capt. Fullerton | a curious dream he has experienced, will be found great need existing for a light on Cape Cami. The necessity for such a provision has already been pointed out to the Chinese Authorities, but they have hitherto done nothing towards remedying the defect. Mr. foreign vessel is now disoharging building ma-JORDAN, the British Consul at Kiungehow, refers to the matter in his report on the trade of that port for 1882, in the following |- Shenghai Mercury. terms :- The navigation of the Hainan Straits is attended with great difficulty, and 'dook yesterday and the American ship Chocorne the total absence of lighthouses caused a great waste of valuable time to vessels docked there to-day. The British steamer making this port from the westward. A light on Cape Cami is, perhaps, the most boot Lutin. The British steamer Kwangtung He Kai instructed by Mr. Arkcoll, from the Birgently felt want in this respect." Cape Cami is a commanding point, and a light erected on it would be visible for a great distance, and prove a most welcome beacon to the mariner. The Hainan Straits are rapidly becoming an important trade route. Through them pass the numerous vessels engaged in trade with Tonquin, and when the river Songkoi is opened up, the traffic between Haiphong and Hongkong will undoubtedly receive a great impetus. The trade with Hainau must also largely increase in the future, and the exports in particular show a very healthy exparsion even now. In view of the steady advance of trade, and especially having regard to the fact that Chinese steamers are largely engaged in 1t, the Chinese Government should without loss of time set to work to render the navigation of the Hainer Straits less bazardous. The Imdoing their best to light the coast of China, and have very recently completed two important lighthouses, namely, the South Cape (Formoss) and the Bonham Island lighthouses. It is now the turn of Hainan to receive a little attention, and the wrack of the poor old Spark will probably be the means of indusing the Customs Authorities to erect the much needed lighthouse on Caps Cami.

Aurhough the relations between Russis and China are at present professedly of an amicable description, it is well known that the feeling between the two Governments is not really cordial. Russia secretly resents the necessity which caused her to retrocede Kuldia; China resents the annexation of the Amoor district, and is distrustful of the attitude of Russia on the question of Kashgaria. Of course neither Government would openly admit the existence of such feelings, but there can be no doubt that they are entertained. But what these Governments only think some persons are not slow to state as broad facts. One of the St. Petersburg journals, the Petersburger Zeitung, has, we note, taken occasion to express the suspicions larking in many minds that Russia would not only make her disinterested counsels beard at Peking in favour of France in the Tonquin dispute, but would profit by the conflict to use her influence HONGKONG. Hastily collecting the results thereof: namely, the part proposed by amount of the reward they brought it in before Mr. Bourés, which was inhabited by the Hill the General, saying they were indeed unfortanately connected with a bad man. Ha was their relative and he had broken the law, and ought to be punished. They ought themselves to hant him. All they could do, therefore, was to farnish the General with the smount of the reward off red for hiscapture, so that the Government would be relieved of the payment of that sum. The General would have it ready to pay over as soon as the man was delivered up, and their own purity of purpose would be also manifest. But the dead did not come out of their coffice, and the fagitives in Sinanpore were content with their foreign homes. It was an ingenious way of punishing the living for the offences of the departed and the treasure trove remained. Paur's name soon became s terror and the flapping straw hats of his soldiers a dreaded sight.

He did not take villages in order one after another. In that care people would have been the store of combustibles was the last to take be the ruler of this neutral zone. Surely it ready for him. He jumped about from place to up next. And this undertainty increased the terror. He was well provided with bosts and went swiftly from place to place by lead or water, as opposion required. To-day-he would sack a town in one district, while all the villages in the neighbouchood were trembling, but their turn had not come yet. When the wart move was ordered the soldiers would enter the beats with not the least idea where they were going. Away they went I do up one stream and down another, and would stop while jet quite a distance from the real point of attack. In the late hours of the night the troops would march. Threading their way through many a rice fall their guide would bring them to the designated village. In stealthy silence they surranned the village and waited for daylight. The first villager who waked from his dreams and stepped out from his dwelling discovered the blue-lived straw hats in a cordon around the place waiting for orders. The alarm would be quickly given. There would be running to and fro, perplexity and distress. There was no escape and there was to be no let up. Certain culprits were demanied. Alas, they had escaped a short time before. Then you who have allowed them to escape are responsible." Such victims as could he had were then taken. An officer then went through the village inquiring for particular house here and there. n these he wrote in red paint one frightful word " Fire." The building was doomed. The inmates hurried through back doors and private ways to save odds and ends of property before the torch bearers came round. When all the other work was done the toron was applied to these ill-fated dwellings. When they were well on fire Pang's troops quietly withdraw, and wound their way back to their boats, whilst several columns of black smoke towering to the heavens showed to all the dwellors in the plains far and near what Paug's morning work had been.

In this way scores and scores of towns were nmed. In some instances only a few houses were destroyed, but in others hundreds were set on fre at once, and half of a large town would be destroyed. Sometimes two or three villages world be set burning at once by detachments of troop that had gone in different directions.

But the burnings were not the most dreaded feeture of this position tion. Paper o troops reurred laden with prisoners who were handed over to the Civil Magistrates and for form's sake went through a sort of examination by him. When, at length, the jails were full then a batch of executions would be ordered and room made for others. Forty, fifty, sixty, and seventy executions were common at one time. The victims were taken out and placed were laid on the ground behind the victims, one to every cortain number of men. Then came that redoubtable executioner, who beasted that he could execute a score of men, and not speck his pantaloons with blood. Grasping a swort in case. MANAGING AGENTS AND SECRETABLES. MESERS. COWIE BROS., Sandakan & Labuan AUDITOR.

ALEX. COOK, Esq. HEAD OFFICE SANDAKAN NORTH BORNEO.

HIS Company is formed to meet the requirements of the merchants, traders, and planters of Sandakan Bay and the East Coast of North Borneo, and to facilitate the rapidly ingreating trade and passenger traffic of the Bay and neighbouring Seas by running suitable Steamers, from port to port, amongst the various islands, rivers, and out stations, and thus concentrating the trade in the larger ports of the Territory, where facilities are offered for direct transhipment into Steamers running to Singapore Hongkong, the Coast of China, Australia, &c. &c. It is thought that, in carrying out, on a properly organised system, the objects for which the Company has been formed, a legiti-mate and profitable outlet for capital is presented. The system will include the maintenance of communication by Steam Launches between Elopura and the plantations now being commenced up the rivers within the Bay of Sanda. kan, and the opening up, generally, of the trade with the Kinabatangan, Labus, Sugat, and other rivers and stations in North Borneo.

A concession of foreshere land to the extent of four seres has been provisionally secured, for development. These concessions, besides affording sites for the Company's wharves, godowns, and offices, will, no doubt, as the country advances, form the centres of future settlements or townships, and thus constitute hereafter a distinct and special feature in the assets of the Company. Upon the assumption that the Company may wish eventually to have independent accommodition at their head quarters, the refusal, on favourable terms, of desirable premises at Elopura has also been secured. It is intended to procure, as soon as possible two capacions Steam Launches to run to the various plantations within the Bay itself, and also two suitable Lighters; while for calling at the more distant places a Steamer of about 300 tous capacity will be all that is necessary to meet the first requirements, in connection with which an agreement conditional upon the formation of the Company—bas been entered into for the purchase of the steamer "Royalist," with the full banefit of all the contracts, engagements, and privileges which she has with the Government and Chinese Morchants. The cost of these vessels, together with the erection of suitable godowns, wharves, and other. socommodation will, it is calculated, absorb about 360,000 of the paid-up capital. For working capital, the Directors will be left with $40,000 in bond, to increase which, further ealls can be made, should the Company's business expand and extension of its operations and additions to its floot and establishments be in consequence thought desirable. Meetings of Shareholders will be held annual. ly, and at these the Directors Reports and Adocunts will be presented. In this respect and in all other essential particulars the constitution of the Company will be in conformity with the rules in force for English Joint Stock Companies. It is needless to say that no promotion money has been or will be paid. The Directors put forward their scheme in the interests of the East Coast and of the Territory generally, with a considerable proportion of the capital already subscribed by the local community, and with the promise of their further co-operation, and they trust that their undertaking will meet with the approval and support of all those who are concerned in upholding the trade and welfare of Copies of the Memorandam and Articles of Association, particulars of the land concessions. and copy of the agreement with Mr. Cowie for the purchase of the " Loyalist," can be seen at the Company's Office. Applications for Bhares should be made on the secompanying form and addressed to the Secretaries or to the Company's Agents, from whom. The issue for 1893 which is the or from any of the Directors, further information can be obtained. Last will close in Hongkong on Slat instant.

imperiat Quarto. NGLISH AND CHINESE DICTIONARY. DICTIONARY. WITH THE PUNTLAND MANDARIN

Daily Press Office, Hongkong. For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extenso. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given. the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the will leave for the above place on SATURDAY, Chinese and English type correspond in the size the 4th August, at 12'(Noon) o'chock. of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of E. L. WOODIN. space, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those yest margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications. To illustrate the vast scope of the work, the following facts are submitted for consideration :-

Justimers' Vocabulary contains about 16,000 Chinese characters, and Medburst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various applications and equivolents of different words which have one general meaning. Of these examples this work contains more than five times as and COAL TAR in lots to sait from many as any other Dictionary hitherto pub.

For practical purposes the arrangement of the work is so complete, that a reference to its pages enables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect the work will be found indispensable to all Europeans residing in China, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted To parties resident in England and interested in China it cannot but be invaluable occasion-

It comprises upwards of two thousand large A Large REDUCTION in PRICE is made to Purchasers of SIX or more Copies.
